

SUGAR DIFFERENTIAL
TO BE REPEALEDWAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE HAS DECIDED.

Chairman Wilson Directed to Report the Bill—Gorman and Hill—Comments Exchanged in the Senate Yesterday—The Maryland Senator Puts Himself on Record.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The ways and means committee today instructed Congressman Wilson to report his bill for the repeal of differential duty on sugar. The galleries of the senate were again well filled yesterday in anticipation of developments in the way of speeches indicating the probable course of the majority. After the routine business Senator Stewart resumed his speech begun on Saturday.

After Senator Stewart Mr. Gorman took the floor. He first gave his attention to the proposition to cripple the income tax by cutting off its appropriation. He declared himself opposed to that line of attack. He then proceeded to take up the tariff legislation as bearing on existing conditions. The tariff bill which first came to the senate from the house, he said brought forth an era of demagoguery such as the country had seldom before seen. It overlooked the greatest essential of legislation—to raise sufficient revenue to carry on the government. The senate had added sixty millions to the revenue under the law. And yet it was now demonstrated the revenues under the law were insufficient to carry on the ordinary expenses of the government.

The senator paid a high tribute to the ability and integrity of Secretary Carlisle. "Before the election of 1892," said Mr. Gorman, "it had already been demonstrated the McKinley law did not yield sufficient revenue to meet the demands of the government. The estimates on which that law had been made were erroneous, just as the estimates on which this last tariff law was framed were erroneous. It had been clearly pointed out prior to the election of 1892 that the McKinley law reduced revenues to the point of threatening the treasury with bankruptcy."

Mr. Gorman quoted from a report of the condition of the treasury Jan. 12, showing the deficit since July 1, 1894, or the excess of expenditures, as Mr. Carlisle called it, was $34,000,000. Mr. Carlisle, while the tariff bill was pending, had estimated the receipts under the senate bill for the ensuing fiscal year at $363,000,000 and the expenditures $378,000,000, or a deficit of $15,000,000. The deficit was already double that sum and the year was but half over. He promised his republican friends that when they came into power March 4 they would receive from the democratic party the aid which he claimed had been refused by the republicans to the democrats at this session. In closing he said: "It would be good policy and good politics for the republicans to join us, sink party differences, meet the emergency, and not let this question be made a football any longer."

Senator Allison of Iowa followed Mr. Gorman. His argument was that there was an imperative necessity to increase the revenues of the government. Mr. Allison closed with a vigorous appeal to those in authority, the President, the secretary of the treasury, the administration, and congress, to meet the emergency here and now instead of waiting for a full year.

Mr. Hill (dem., N. Y.) followed in a speech bitterly criticizing the stand taken by Senator Gorman. He claimed the senator's speech was a veiled attack upon himself. He also claimed legislation could be enacted if the rules of the senate were changed to allow it. Mr. Hill sharply criticized what he called Senator Gorman's change of position on many subjects, notably the income tax and bond issues, and several times in his speech strained senatorial courtesy to the utmost limit.

Mr. Gorman was again on his feet as soon as Mr. Hill closed. He disclaimed a desire to have a personal controversy with the senator from New York. As to the tariff law as a whole, Mr. Gorman said that if the democracy—from its head to its most humble member—had given the measure generous support, the result last November would have been different. No dominant party could have succeeded in the midst of the terrible depression that existed last summer. "Now I say to the senator from New York," said he, "bring forth your measure of relief and if it is a proper measure, one that commands a majority in this chamber, we will pass it."

After Mr. Call of Florida had urged the necessity of an income tax the senate held a brief executive session and at 5:15 p. m. adjourned.

ELECTION BY PEOPLE.

Hill Favors Popular Vote for United States Senators.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Senator Hill, in an interview, favors popular elections of United States senators. He said: "This is a much needed reform, the importance of which at this time cannot be overestimated. It is a popular movement. It accords with democratic ideas and sentiments. It would improve the senate and bring that body more in accord with public sentiment upon great measures. Legislatures can be improperly manipulated and controlled by influences which can not well reach the people of a whole state, and many scandals would be saved and better selections secured, as a general rule, if the power of election were vested in the electors of the state. The election of United States senators by the people would largely relieve partisan legislatures from the temptations of 'gerrymandering' legislative districts, and members could be chosen according to their merits and not because of their attitude toward senatorial candidates. Democrats ought to be able to see where their true interest is upon this question, and should act accordingly. No important reform was ever accomplished except by agitation, and agitation sometimes even affects the senate of the United States."

Oleomargarine Bill Again Debated.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Speaker Crisp laid before the house at the opening of the session yesterday the resignation of Representative John C. Black of Illinois, who resigned to accept the position of United States district attorney for the northern district of Illinois.

Mr. Hatch (dem., Mo.) called up the Groat bill to make oleomargarine and all other imitation dairy products subject to the laws of the state or territory into which they are transported (which was under consideration Saturday), and Mr. Bynum (dem., Ind.) resumed his hostile attitude toward it, indicating a disposition to filibuster if necessary to defeat it. Mr. Bailey (dem., Texas) suggested that Mr. Hatch accept a substitute to repeal the oleomargarine act, but this was not acceptable to the chairman of the committee on agriculture. Mr. Bynum thereupon moved a recess for one hour. On a rising vote the motion was defeated—3 to 117. Mr. Bynum made the point of no quorum and the bill went over.

The bill to provide for the enlargement of the judicial system of Indian territory was passed.

For International Arbitration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Senator Sherman yesterday introduced a bill providing for carrying into effect the international arbitration resolution adopted by congress in 1890 by asking the President to conduct such negotiations as it provides for through the diplomatic agents of the United States, or at his discretion to appoint a committee to visit such other nations as he may determine, "for the purpose of instituting negotiations with them for the creation of a tribunal of international arbitration or other appropriate means whereby difficulties and disputes between nations may be peaceably and amicably settled and was prevented."

Outlook Is Bad for Judge Ricks.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Nearly every member of the house judiciary committee attended the special meeting to consider the charges against Judge Ricks of Cleveland, Ohio. Representative Bailey of Texas, the chairman of the subcommittee which made the investigation at Cleveland, submitted his views. His judgment was against Judge Ricks and to the effect that the judge had been guilty of grave misconduct, if not malfeasance and dishonesty, in receiving fees after he had been elevated to the bench, which he claims to have earned before as clerk of the court. There is a possibility that a vote will be reached to-day.

Currency Fight Centers in Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The attempt of the democrats to reach an agreement upon some definite plan to solve the currency question seems to have been transferred from the house to the senate. Democratic members of the banking committee who are closest to Secretary Carlisle and the President say the campaign for agreement had made no progress since last week, but added the secretary of the treasury still entertains strong hopes that the different financial factions of congress may find a platform of compromise upon which they can stand.

To Take Up Japanese Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The senate agreed in executive session yesterday to take up the Japanese treaty Friday next. The indications are that the treaty will be ratified, as it is understood that all objections to the convention have been overcome.

Chilton for Senator from Texas.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 15.—The democratic caucus unanimously nominated Horace R. Chilton for United States senator last night. He will be elected Jan. 22. Gov. Culberson will be inaugurated to-day.

Yacht Race a Certainty Now.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The New York Yacht club held a special meeting last evening and adopted a resolution accepting Lord Dunraven's challenge for the America cup.

Entire Crew Is Drowned.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 15.—It is rumored here that a schooner from Tampico, Mex., to Velasco, Texas, has gone down, and that her crew of six were drowned.

Pritchard in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 15.—The republican caucus yesterday nominated J. C. Pritchard of Madison county for United States senator for the short term.

Death of Mrs. Hansbrough.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Hansbrough, wife of Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota, died of acute pneumonia at 1:30 p. m. yesterday at the Cochran hotel.

STADT IS BURNED
WITH BALL FINERY

MILWAUKEE THEATRE DAMAGED $55,000 BY FIRE.

Decorations for the Great Charity Party Just Finished When Temporary Electric Light Wires Caused the Blaze—The Exposition Building Offered for Dancers.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 15.—Fire gutted the Stadt theatre today, swept away the costly charity ball decorations and damaged a score of offices. The fire broke out on the stage at 11:30 this forenoon. The theatre was a bower of beauty in preparation for the great ball this evening and workmen were putting on the finishing touches by stringing lines of electric lights. The crossing of these temporary wires caused the blaze. There was a puff of flame and the entire mass of decorations seemed to be in flames in an instant.

So rapid had been the spread of the fire that little could be done until the auditorium had been swept from floor to ceiling. Water poured in by the firemen dripped down and did considerable damage in offices below. The Deutscher club was burned out and suffered a loss of $2,000.

The total loss exceeds $55,000. The Charity ball decorations represented $5,000, with $3,000 insurance. Milwaukee exposition managers met this afternoon and offered the use of their hall, rent free. The ball will be held in the exposition building tomorrow night.

FOR A BIG WATERWAY.

Indiana Statesman Wants to Connect Lake Michigan and the Ohio.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 15.—Of the forty bills and half as many resolutions that were introduced yesterday in the senate none exceeded in importance a resolution sent in by Senator Haggard. The design is to build a ship canal connecting Lake Michigan with the upper Tippecanoe river, thence down stream to the Wabash, and by means of that river a route will be sought to the Ohio. The decline, it is said, will be sufficient to furnish a continuous and powerful flow of water from the great feedway at the north. The resolution asks that a committee be appointed to look into the feasibility of the scheme. Convict labor would be used in the construction of the canal. This canal would drain the Kankakee swamps and all that overflowed region for miles in the northwestern counties, redeeming untold thousands of acres of valuable farming land. All in all the plan is one of the most stupendous ever contemplated by the state.

The first step toward a legislative re-apportionment of Indiana was taken in the senate when Senator Wishard introduced a bill to repeal the apportionment act of the last legislature. Senator Wishard has his new apportionment bill prepared to introduce as soon as the repealing act has passed. The Supreme court has declared the last apportionment unconstitutional. Marshall Newhouse of Decatur, who will be chairman of the apportionment committee in the house, also had a re-apportionment bill on slightly different lines from Senator Wishard's and the measure, as it will finally pass, probably will be a compromise between these two.

DISGRACE AND DEATH.

Bank Cashier Admits Default and Commits Suicide.

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 15.—"The Dover National bank, to the best of my knowledge and belief, is short $85,000 through me. I have nothing but my memory to rely upon. I have not even a memorandum."

"ISAAC F. ABBOTT, Cashier."

Within fifteen minutes after penning this brief note Isaac F. Abbott, cashier of the Dover National bank and a self-confessed defaulter, was dead, shot through the head. When he wrote the note his arrest was only a matter of a few minutes, for United States Marshal Campbell had come here for that purpose. The bank has been closed by the examiner. Abbott left with his brother a statement as to his defalcations, which, however, the brother refuses to give out. The officers of the bank make the statement that the bank is all right. Mr. Abbott's bond was issued for $20,000 by the Guarantee company of North America, Montreal, which has been apprised of the default. The city's money on deposit is said to be safe. The stockholders will have to make good the deficiency in the bank. Mr. Abbott was born in Dover and has been cashier nearly twenty years. He was clerk in the bank before that.

Will Take Coit Back for Trial.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 15.—Sheriff Loufborrow of Fayette county is here to take Col. A. B. Coit to Washington Court House on a charge of manslaughter. Coit, as the representative of the board of trade, is in Hocking Valley carrying relief to destitute miners, but has been telegraphed to report here at once.

Miss Stevenson Is Near the End.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Jan. 15.—Indications are that Miss Stevenson can not long survive. It was feared late last night she could not live until morning but she rallied and is about as she has been for several days past.

MONROE IS TORN UP
OVER DOG KILLINGANOTHER MAN FINED FOR HELPING LAYTON.

Mrs Layton Made the Complaint and the End Is Not Yet—When Dogs Don't Come Home at Night the Owners Begin Looking For Their Tanned Hides.

MONROE, Jan. 15.—When a Monroe man's dog doesn't come home at night the owner at once begins to look for his tanned hide. When Lou Layton was found guilty of killing dogs for their hides, his conviction stirred up a hornet's nest. Now Layton's wife has had a warrant sworn out against Andrew Layton as accessory to the crime whereby her husband is obliged to spend thirty days in jail, and Layton was sentenced to do fifteen days with Sheriff Durst.

William Webb owned a hound not long since, but he mysteriously disappeared. It was thought he had gone the way of Hefty's bull dog, and upon investigation his hide has been found nicely tanned. Matt Duerst and George Stauffer are others who have missing dogs, and will investigate matters, and it seems as if the end is not yet.

TALKING FOR DEBS.

Attorney Darrow Argues Before the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Clarence S. Darrow, attorney for Eugene V. Debs, appeared before the Supreme court of the United States yesterday and filed a petition for a writ of error in the contempt case and a supersedeas. The proceedings were under two distinct heads, one being a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to inquire into the legality of the commitment to prison, and the other for a writ of error to inquire into the legality of the proceedings of the trial for contempt. The claims of the petitioners in the application for a writ of habeas corpus are:

1. That the information did not show a violation of the injunction by the petitioners.
2. That the petitioners were tried without a jury.
3. That the injunction was void because issued under the interstate commerce act, which confers no such jurisdiction.
4. That petitioners applied to United States court because they realized the futility of going before judge Woods.

On the other count, the petition for a writ of error, it was urged:

1. That the court had no jurisdiction.
2. That the court erred in holding that a bill on which the injunction was granted might be maintained in the name of the United States under the interstate commerce act.
3. That this being in effect a proceeding to punish a criminal for contempt not committed in the presence of the court, error was committed by the court in not discharging the prisoners on their answers.
4. That the court erred in not quashing the information and supplemental information, and in holding the same to be insufficient.
5. That the court erred in trying the defendants on information and evidence, indictment or presentment of a grand jury.
6. That the court erred in trying the defendants without the jury.
7. That the court erred in making an order against the defendants on the claim that the bill of the United States on which the injunction was granted had been violated.

The court listened attentively to the speech made by Mr. Darrow in stating his case, and at its conclusion Chief Justice Fuller remarked that it would first be necessary to ascertain whether an application for a writ of error would lie, and that this point would have to be determined first. The point was conceded by Mr. Darrow, whereupon Chief Justice Fuller asked the attorney when he would be prepared to present his evidence and make his argument. To this Mr. Darrow replied that he would be ready at any time, whereupon the chief justice fixed Wednesday for the hearing.

The effect of this is that the habeas corpus case will be held in abeyance until a decision is rendered on the writ of error involving the legality of the whole contempt proceedings.

GOV. MORRILL'S INAUGURAL.
New Executive of Kansas Reads His Message to the Legislature.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 15.—Gov. Morrill delivered his inaugural address to the legislature yesterday. He severely criticised the methods and ideas of the populists, claiming they had retarded the growth and prosperity of the state. He went on:

"Yet with all this the fact remains that Kansas has moved steadily on its course. It is safe to say as a truth that so large a measure of prosperity, so rapid an accumulation of wealth and surrounding physical comforts have never before been realized from a like investment of money and labor in the history of human endeavor as has been accomplished here in Kansas since her admission into the Union."

The governor places Kansas in the forefront in the educational sphere, and quotes from statistics to show that the state debt is practically wiped out. He protests against the efforts made to damage the state's credit, and declares emphatically against any talk of repudiation of debts.

The Militia Are All Ready for Duty at Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 15.—[Special].—It was reported at 2 o'clock this afternoon that the militia had been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for instant response to a call.

Rioting has begun on the Twenty-first street line and several men have been badly hurt. The entire reserve police force is trying to break up the mob.

The strikers are now getting bolder and but one mail car was run this morning. The result. The most serious clash occurred in the afternoon at Fifth avenue and Twenty-third street. President Norton, who had been trying to get out some cars all day, ordered that a car bearing the sign "United States Mail" be taken out and run over the line. When the car made its appearance strikes began to hoot and make threats. The car had proceeded about twenty yards when the strikers and their friends closed in on it. The police who were on the car were reinforced by twenty-five policemen stationed there to keep order, who surrounded the car and endeavored to keep the strikers back. With drawn clubs they endeavored to fight the strikers off. The car was finally taken back into the barns. Other cars were also stopped and turned back. Postmaster Sullivan said last evening: "The street cars are under contract to carry our mails. You may be sure that if the interference of federal troops is necessary to accomplish the result they will be called in."

The right to do so would be the same as the right of the President to use troops in Chicago. I go to Washington at once to consult with the heads of the postoffice department. If there is the least attempt to interfere with the mails on the part of the strikers I shall report it to them at once."

The troops at Fort Hamilton and at Governor's Island would be available if it became necessary to use them.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The government has received no request for troops on account of interference with the mails by the Brooklyn strike, and it is said at the war department it is not expected any such call will be made. No reason is seen why the authorities of New York state are not entirely competent to deal with the trouble without calling on the national government.

MINERS NEAR TO DEATH

Water Is Creeping Up On Entombed Men at London.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—[Special].—One hundred men are entombed in the Big Lock colliery and the water is raising on them. Two hundred and thirty men and boys were at work in the colliery when at 12 o'clock there was a sudden rush of water from the old workings. Seventy men reached the shaft and were speedily hoisted out of danger. By 5 o'clock, 150 of the men and boys had been rescued. Of the eighty who were below it was thought twenty were in the lower workings when the mine was flooded and that they had been drowned. The rescuers are doing their utmost to save the living and get the bodies of the dead.

LANDTAG MET TODAY

Session Opened by the Emperor Himself at Berlin.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—[Special].—The Prussian Landtag was opened at noon by the emperor, who appeared in person.

MINISTRY GOES OUT.

Dupuy Cabinet Resigns and There Is a French Crisis.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The cabinet resigned yesterday, having been defeated in the chamber of deputies on the question of giving priority to an order of the day. President Casimir-Perier and Premier Dupuy were in conference for an hour and a half after the resignation. The president finally concluded he was unable to urge the ministry to remain in office and he therefore accepted their resignations. It is generally expected that M. Bourgeois, minister of public instruction in the cabinets of M. Freycinet and Loubet and minister of justice in the Ribot cabinet, will succeed Prime Minister Dupuy.

Dynamite on a Street Car Track.

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 15.—Louis Kilpen, a carpenter, found two packages of dynamite on the street car tracks. He picked them up barely in time to avoid a passing car. Chief of Police Armstrong says the least jar might have caused an explosion and that the two sticks would have blown up the entire block. The city is greatly excited over the affair. There has been no trouble on the street car lines, and it is believed the plot was aimed at the city hall and police officials probably by a crank.

Situation Grows Worse in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 15.—The situation in the drought districts of Nebraska grows more serious daily. W. N. Nason, president of the Nebraska State Relief commission, makes an urgent appeal for aid, explaining the destitution. Relief is being forwarded from many parts of the country.

More Than a Million for Schools.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 15.—The apportionment of more than $1,000,000 for the support of the state's schools was made yesterday. A settlement was effected between Auditor of State Henderson and the treasurers of Marion and Vigo counties. The records show the total amount collected from the counties and distributed in this apportionment is $1,399,436. From the state treasury $35,624 was taken, the total receipts being $1,435,061. The amount apportioned was $1,421,629. The number of school children in the state is 805,261. Ninety counties in the state made their settlements, as Auditor Henderson demanded, under the fee and salary law, which has been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme court. The treasurers of Marion and Vigo counties, which have the largest taxes in the state, refused to settle.

Anti-Toxine Tried in Racine.

RACINE, Wis., Jan. 15.—Diphtheria in its worst form is prevalent in the family of Peter Nortzinger of Mount Pleasant. Three of his children, aged 7, 5 and 11 years, have died in less than a week, and three more are sick. Anti-toxine is now being used on the three sick children, and it is hoped they can be saved.

Gen. Sewell Nominated for Senator.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 15.—The republican caucus nominated Gen. William Sewell for senator, giving him 55 votes against 24 for Murphy.

REFORMS PLANNED
BY LEGISLATORSASSEMBLYMAN HALL WANTS
ALL PASSES TABOOED.

Speaker Burrows Names His Committees—Bills Introduced to Provide for the Examination of State Banks and a New Board of Control of Seven Members.

MADISON, Jan. 15.—[Special].—Both houses of the legislature held brief sessions this morning. In the assembly Speaker Burrows announced his committees for the session and Assemblyman Hall introduced a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment prohibiting the granting of all passes. In the senate, bill for examination of state banks; for change in the state board of control, creating a new board of seven for a term of three years, were introduced.

SUICIDE BETTER THAN STARVING

Couple Kill Themselves and Their Child at Paxton, Neb.

PAXTON, Neb., Jan. 15.—One of the most heartrending scenes of the present destitution developed here, when the dead bodies of John Harris, wife and baby were found in their little sod house eight miles from here. The parents had killed their child and then cut their throats to avoid starvation. The mother was found on the bed and Harris on the floor near the foot of the bed. A razor with which the deed was done was found lying on the floor. The couple had only moved to their present place a month ago. The house in which they lived was a sod dugout. The surroundings indicated the family was in desperate circumstances, with starvation staring them in the face. A letter simply saying the couple had decided to end their lives together, was found written by the husband in a clear and steady hand.

Although the motive for the deed was destitution, aid could have been had for the asking. The parents of the couple arrived next morning and will take the remains to Nichols, Neb., for interment.

Paxton is a typical western Nebraska village in the eastern part of Keith county. The country around about has produced good crops in times past and will undoubtedly do so again, but the failure in 1893 and 1894 was almost complete, and the situation of the people is pitiable. Among the different families in Keith county now in a state of destitution there are between 500 and 600 children.

REWARD OF $1,000 FOR ROBBERS.

Burlington Officials Have No Clue to the Iowa "Holdup."

OTTUMWA, Iowa, Jan. 15.—Officials of the Burlington road have all the men under surveillance who were in the car that was robbed Saturday night. Express Messenger Page and Assistant Hawk are in Chicago under the eye of Adams express officials. Baggage man Ed Wright was interviewed searching by the Burlington officials here, and it is rumored they may all be placed in custody. The town is full of the company's own detectives with a couple of Pinkerton men and from the fuss made the impression is gained the amount taken was large, though it is placed by Burlington officials at $3,000. The Albia State bank was to have shipped $5,000 in currency on this train, and it is believed that the robbers were after it. But the money for some reason missed the train. It now develops there were four robbers instead of two, but two of them got on the front of the mail car next engine and could not effect an entrance to the mail car or else their courage failed them. When the train reached the junction they dropped off and scurried away with their companions. The company has offered a reward of $1,000 for their capture.

SCHOOL IS CLOSED BY SCARLET FEVER

TOWN OF JANESVILLE IS ALARMED BY THE DISEASE.

Children in the Dennett, Fredendall and Donahue families suffer, but the cases are not severe—H. E. McElroy in Milton—Rev. Mr. Jones leaves Johnston.

Scarlet fever has caused the closing of one of the schools in the town of Janesville and has caused much alarm. There are two cases in the family of James S. Dennett and a voluntary quarantine is being enforced. The disease is not severe and at first it was not recognized. It had taken root in the Donahue family and in the Fredendall family and run several days before its nature was known.

Protracted meetings are being held at the Free Baptist church in North Johnston.

Rev. Frank A. Pease of Janesville, lectures this evening in Milton, on "Who and What."

Rev. Mr. Jones of North Johnston leaves his charge April 1, and the church is looking for a preacher. Horace E. McElroy lectured in Milton Junction last night.

These and other news notes appear in the following letters.

BUSINESS GOOD AT MILTON.

Unfavorable Weather Didn't Cut Shipments Down—Other News Notes.

MILTON, Jan. 15.—Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, considerable business was transacted in car-load freights. Fetherston & Bro. shipped a car each of corn, oats and wheat; James Vincent a car of live hogs; and Soverhill & Porter two cars of leaf tobacco for export to Germany. Freight received in carloads included one of flour, two of tobacco and two of coal. Frank Summerbell, who has been quite ill for a week or more, is improving slowly. At the celebration of the ninety-first birthday of Alvin Clarke, which occurred last Friday, there were present the following relatives: J. J. Clarke, wife, daughter and two grandsons; Albertus Clarke and wife; Wellington Clarke; Albert Barnhart, three daughters, son and grandson; W. P. Clarke, wife and two children, President W. Q. Whitford and wife, Professor Albert Whitney, wife and son of Milton; H. P. Clarke, Will Clarke and wife of Brodhead; W. H. Clarke, wife and son of Edgerton. The old gentleman enjoys very good health for his time of life and the occasion was a notably pleasant one for him. Hear the lecture this evening at the M. E. church, by Rev. F. A. Pease of Janesville. "Who, What" is his subject. D. D. G. M. A. O. Gifford and his assistants visited Edgerton Saturday and installed the officers of the Odd Fellows Lodge in that place, finishing his work in that line for the term. Du Lac lodge in this place, is the only one in this county that has made any gain in membership during the past six months. A twelve hundred dollar new testament was recently presented to the Empress Dowager of China by ten thousand Christian women of the Empire. We note that the Seventh Day Baptists were numbered among the donors. The Congregational Ladies Aid Society will meet Friday afternoon and evening at the parsonage.

"Old Nick" struck the town Friday night in the interest of Bradner Smith & Co. He had let the fact that it was the "Sabbath evening" of some customers escape his memory, consequently departed in anything but a joyous mood. Late reports from David Smith are not encouraging, his symptoms being no better. He is steadily growing weaker and unable to retain nourishment. Robert Skinner and wife came down from Madison Saturday and spent the day with Milton relatives. Prof. A. R. Crandall expects to leave the village in a few days for Kentucky, where he will spend some time in the mountain region of the state, doing special work in his line. For a time his headquarters will be at Lexington. James Pierce was confined to the house last week with a serious attack of neuralgia. O. E. Orcutt, who left this village some time since with the expectation of making California his home, changed his mind and at present is in Minneapolis. Rev. Smith Morton of Beloit, occupied the pulpit at the Congregational church Sunday morning. He is expected to occupy the same pulpit next Sunday.

JUNCTION MAN HURT BY A FALL

Plank Slipped From Under Russell Frink—Institute Was a Good One.

MILTON JUNCTION, Jan. 15.—Russell Frink met with quite an accident one day last week. He was unloading a car and the plank from the door to the ground slipped, throwing him seven feet. He struck on his shoulder and tore the muscles besides spraining them severely. The doctor said it would be two weeks before he could use his arm. Hal, Burdick entered school today. His foot is much better. Miss Alice Babcock has returned from her visit in Chicago and is again stopping at Joe Carr's. The farmers' convention, held here last week brought a crowd, many notables from abroad being present. The discussions were animated and good natured. Standing room only could be obtained by a late comer at any of the sessions. The ladies of the Methodist church furnished dinner and a supper for the convention and took about fifty dollars or more. Rev. G. W. Burdick preached at Harmony Sunday Mrs. Bebe of Chillicothe, Ill., arrived here Friday to care for her aunt Mrs. Asner who is still very sick. Mr.

and Mrs. Elmer Barnes of Fort Atkinson visited friends here Saturday. Mrs. H. E. Miner and daughter Addie visited friends at Madison and Edgerton from Thursday to Saturday. The Juvenile Temple repeated the "Mother Goose's Temperance Family" entertainment Saturday night. The audience was not as large as it should have been either time. The children did nicely and looked like real little actors. Ram Burdick and Joe Babcock visited Albion last week. What is puzzling Junction people is "who has an income of $3,000 a year?" and "why has not that $7,500 real estate deal been put in the list of transfer of real estate?" We are all anxious to know who our lucky neighbors are. If the weather is pleasant and not too cold, the ladies of the S. D. B. church will take their dinner and spend Thursday with Mrs. Astor Allen who lives two miles east of Milton. Work is to be furnished. Election of officers is also to take place. Reverend Randolph of Chicago, who has been conducting revival meetings at Milton, was in town Friday. George Miller visited his mother here Saturday. Professor Wells and family have gone back to Lake Mills. Mrs. Johnson of Whitewater, visited at Dr. Hull's, last week. Mr. Heritage has moved his harness shop from this place to Marshall, Dane county. Mrs. Lim Osborn of Albion, visited here Friday.

News From Indian Ford.

INDIAN FORD, Jan. 15.—Last Monday H. S. Swift Post, G. A. B. were invited by comrade C. H. Bates to celebrate his eighty seventh birthday. Ten responded, arriving at twenty minutes to twelve a. m. A bountiful dinner was served, after which time was spent in telling war stories until 4 o'clock when a few patriotic songs were sung and all shook hands, declaring that they had a good time. Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs. Cary of Janesville were welcome visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Call's last week. Mrs. W. C. Jackson is reported quite sick. Dr. McManus is in attendance. Mrs. Alverson of Adams county, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Thomas with her little girl who is said to have lung fever. Miss Dane and Mrs. Call called on Mrs. H. Thompson one evening last week. George Lackner in company with several others visited Edgerton one evening last week. L. H. Page was seen on our streets last week. Mr. Jackson, our miller, must be doing a good business for we see a good many teams at the mill every day. Mrs. R. Call and Miss Emma Dane were very cordially entertained by Mrs. C. S. Thomas and family one evening last week. The members of H. S. Swift Post No. 137 of Edgerton will hold a camp fire, January 22, 1895, in Royal hall. Supper from 6 to 8 o'clock and all are invited. Elard Stone is so far recovered from his illness that he is able to be out. E. L. Ward of the firm of Lackner & Ward made a business trip to Janesville.

Meetings at North Johnston.

NORTH JOHNSTON, Jan. 15.—Protracted meetings have been commenced at the Free Baptist church. It is rather late to say a word about our Christmas entertainment but the play "Santa Claus Workshop" was well rendered. The entertainment would have been a credit to a city of 25,000 inhabitants and all were well pleased. C. W. Bullock and wife go on a visit soon to her people north. Rev. Jones closes his labors with this church April 1. The church is looking for a new pastor to commence at that time. Quite a number attended the farmers' institute at Milton Junction one day last week, from here. The shadow social at Watson Aldrich's was a financial success. Shadows sold from twenty-five cents to one dollar, and of course supper with the shadow. The Ladies Aid society will meet at the parsonage next Wednesday afternoon. They talk of getting a new organ for the church.

Gossip From East Center.

EAST CENTER, Jan. 15.—Mrs. David Lowry has returned from Boyden, Ia., where she went to attend the wedding of her son, Lewis L., to Miss Pearl Walbridge, of that city. Miss Mary Carrier is on the sick list. The party at David Yeoman's was a very pleasant affair, as all present will affirm. A wedding will, it is said, soon take place in our midst. Evan Lowry expects to go on the railroad again soon. He has been taking quite a rest. Miss Lena Bahr entertained her sister from Magnolia last week. Sherman Lowry is laid up with a bad cold and the "greys" had a rest last Sunday.

News of Lima Center.

LIMA CENTER, Jan. 15.—The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Geo. Fuller Thursday afternoon, and all are invited to come. The Circle will meet with Mrs. I. L. Reece Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Newkirk has been sick for a week with neuralgia. The Epworth League has been so fortunate as to secure the Ladies' Imperial band of Albion for the near future. Further notice later on. Nettie Truman is out again after having been housed a week with a cold. Freeman & Son are laying in a full line of groceries.

DELICIOUS SWEET CHOCOLATE.

Costly Souvenir Packages To Be Presented Each Lady Attending the Lecture. The lecture on Thursday in Myers Grand opera house is purposely given in the afternoon to avoid a crowd. Nothing will be sold and there is no "scheme" attached to the work. These lectures are exclusively for housekeepers, to whom reserved seats and souvenirs are free. All will be under the personal direction of Mr. Elisha B. Worrell, of Boston, the best known and highest salaried exponent of food subjects now before the public. Doors open at 1:30; commences at 2 o'clock.

NEW CITY CHARTER BEFORE THE DADS

UNIFORM MEASURE FAVORED BY ALDERMEN.

Water Works Suit Has Not Been Allowed to Lapse Urge Mayor Thoroughgood and Alderman Child—Ex-Sheriff Bear Has an Old Board Bill.

Mayor Thoroughgood and Alderman Child told the council last night that there would be no let up in the water works suit. It would be pushed to the bitter end. A detailed statement of the steps already taken by the city was made by his honor.

The most important business transacted last evening was the adoption of an order, introduced by Alderman Baines, which has for its object the adoption of the uniform city charter. The order was adopted by a unanimous vote, final action to be taken, according to the order, on February 25. Alderman Baines prefaced his order by a report from the special committee to whom the matter had been referred, favoring the adoption. This was accompanied by an ordinance, drawn in accordance with the law. This ordinance, under the law, lays over until February 25, the clerk being directed to publish it with a notice relating to future action by the council. The ordinance places the city in the third class, the population being under 20,000.

Report on the City Health.

The December report of the city treasurer was read as were the November and December reports of the school board, the December report of the municipal court showing the fees of city marshal for the month to be $18.80; the report of the municipal court for December; the city marshal's report for December and Health Officer Robinson's December report, showing that there had been four cases of diphtheria and two deaths, and five cases of scarlet fever, all convalescent. These reports were referred to appropriate committees, and found correct. The annual report of the chief of the fire department was referred to the fire and water committee.

Ex-Sheriff Bear's bill of $231.60 for boarding city prisoners was referred to the finance committee.

Mayor Thoroughgood directed the clerk to send a note to Alderman Sutherland requesting him to attend the council meetings.

Murphy Question To Be Settled.

The mayor said that he had an interview with the bondsmen of ex-Treasurer Murphy, and that the matters relating to the shortage were about to be settled satisfactorily.

Alderman Baines reported that the detention hospital had been leased for three years to Charles L. Evans, which was approved.

The chief of fire department was authorized to place electric lighters on the gas burners in the fire stations.

The purchasing committee was directed to purchase supplies for the detention hospital and for the fire department, including three fire alarm boxes.

Several bills against the South River street paving fund were ordered paid, and after some mutual explanations in regard to the water works question the council adjourned.

THANKS FOR THE JUVENILE PARTY

Resolutions Passed By the Directors Of Oak Lawn.

Resolutions concerning the juvenile party were adopted by Oak Lawn directors as follows:
Resolved, That the thanks of the hospital directors be given to Mrs. Leslie R. Treat and the ladies and gentlemen who assisted her for their labors in carrying out the juvenile party on New Years day, whereby over $40 was added to the treasury of the association; also to Superintendent Proudfoot of the Electric Street railway for his generosity in furnishing free transportation for the children on that occasion.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth, Be sure and use that old and well tried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

THE LINK BREAKS!

The Awful Woe From One Weak Link.

In a Chain Apparently Strong and Powerful!

The Giving Way of this One Link Wrecked the Ship.

If Only that One Link Had Been Strong.

Think for a Moment and See What this Means.

A ship in a fearful storm, was anchored by a single chain. The chain was large and apparently strong enough to hold. But, in the otherwise strong chain, was one, single weak link. The terrible strain was too much for the weak link; it broke, and the ship was dashed to destruction on the rocks.

The strength of a chain is only up to its weakest link. So the strength of a person, whether physical or nerve strength, is only up to his weakest part or organ. If your nerves are weak or your blood poor, if you suffer from insomnia or have indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney or liver complaint, headache, neuralgia, or rheumatism, there is a weak spot in your system, which, if not cured, will surely cause you to break down.

You will never be well and strong until this weak place or organ is strengthened. It is fearfully dangerous to neglect any such weakness or ailment. Nobody realizes this better than Mrs. G. S. Cobb, a well known lady residing at 334 Smith street, Providence, R. I.

"For five years I had been troubled with indigestion, kidney and liver trouble, severe nervous headaches and neuralgia. There was a terrible pain and pressure in my stomach, from which there was no relief until vomiting set in, when I vomited a slimy mucus.

"After these spells I would be completely prostrated for three or four days. Sometimes for three weeks at a time I could take no nourishment but lime water and milk. I lost forty pounds.

"Severe nervous headaches, at times having a duration of two weeks, would set in. A terrible, piercing pain would shoot in rapid succession through my head. There was a dreadful aching and throbbing through my back between my shoulders.

"In fact I was completely prostrated. I tried prominent physicians without relief, and was entirely discouraged. About this time I heard through a friend, of Dr. Greene and the wonderful cures which had been wrought with his remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"I secured it and commenced using it, and the change which took place was wonderful. The terrible, aching pains through my head and shoulders have left me. Where I could eat nothing but the lightest kinds of foods, I can now eat anything without the slightest distress of any kind.

"The kidney and liver trouble has left me. In fact, my friends are surprised at my wonderful cure. I thank God and Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for my new life and would say to all sufferers, gather confidence and try this great remedy and you will surely be cured."

Oh, that persons complaining of any ailment would be guided by this sensible and valuable advice, and take this wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy! If they only knew what a healthy and happy life awaited them after using it, they would not hesitate a moment.

It will make a strong and well person of you just as surely as you take it. It will cure every one of those troubles and weaknesses which have bothered you so much. Just try it and see. Doctors recommend and advise its use.

Why waste time in trying uncertain and untried remedies, when here is a physician's prescription, a discovery made by the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York City. If you take this medicine, you can consider yourself under Dr. Greene's direct care, and you can consult him or write to him about your case, freely and without charge. This is a guarantee that this remedy will cure, possessed by no other medicine in the world.

A NEW POSTOFFICE MAY BE BUILT HERE

CONGRESSMAN COOPER HAS A BILL PREPARED.

He Will Introduce It Tomorrow—Calls For Appropriation of $100,000 and Would Give Janesville a Fine Building—Little Can be Accomplished During the Session.

Janesville may get a $100,000 post-office building.

It is Congressman Cooper's pet scheme just at present and he has prepared a bill which he will probably introduce in the house tomorrow providing for the erection of the edifice and calling for an appropriation of $100,000.

While it is not likely that Mr. Cooper can get the bill very far along at the present session, which has about six weeks longer to run, he may be able to get a favorable report from the committee, which is a big point gained, and would have an important influence in the next house. But the democratic majority is not taking a warm interest in public buildings bill.

NEW ALARM BOXES LOCATED

Fourth Ward Gets Two and the Third Ward One.

The three new fire alarm boxes ordered by the common council will be numbered and located as follows:

No. 47—At the corners of Pleasant, South High and Cherry streets.

No. 321—At the Junction of Jackson street and Oakland avenue.

No. 421—Near the Fourth ward park.

One reform that Chief Spencer has recently inaugurated seems to strike a popular chord, and that is the abolishing of the "general alarm" after the box has been struck. After the alarm has come in, the bells have been adre and volunteers were needed, while as a matter of fact the alarm might be for a burning chimney. Occasionally the apparatus would be back to the station door before the energetic young man on the end of the rope realized that the fire was out. Frequently the "fire out" or "pressure" signals were interspersed with the general alarm so that they could not be understood. Abolishing the clamor was a good move.

MOTHERS

and those about to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription robs childbirth of its terrors, and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement is greatly shortened. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child.

South Bend, Pacific Co., Wash.

Dear Sir—I began taking your "Favorite Prescription" the first month of pregnancy, and have continued taking it since confinement. I did not experience the nausea or any of the ailments due to pregnancy, after I began taking your "Prescription." I was only in labor a short time, and the physician said I got along unusually well.

We think it saved me a great deal of suffering. I was troubled a great deal with leucorrhoea also, and it has done a world of good for me.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. W. C. BAKER.

But Yet His Wife.

Young Husband (home from the office)—Why, what's the trouble, pet?
 Young Wife (in tears)—Oh, George—my husband—I have made a terrible mistake—but—promise that you'll forgive me?
 Young Husband (shutting his teeth)—Is it as bad as that?
 Young Wife—Even worse (sobs)—I bought this pair of shoes at Tenth Street for five dollars (sobs) and now I find that (sobs) I could have got them at One-hundred-and-thirtieth street for only four dollars and ninety-eight cents.—Judge.

Uncle Sam's Salaries.

"Did you say that her father had been appointed to a prominent place under the government?"
 "Yes."

"And to think I was about to propose to her!"
 "Has the appointment changed your mind?"

"Decidedly. I could support her very nicely, but I don't know whether I feel like taking chances on being expected to chip in and support the entire family."—Truth.

Natural History.

I told her that I had been dabbling in stocks.
 "What were you?" she queried.
 "A bull or a bear?"
 That I had been neither a grizzly nor ox.
 But an ass, pure and simple, I had to declare.
 —Puck.

AN ALL-SUFFICIENT REASON.

Fond Parent—Bobby, why will you always persist in pushing in the eyes of your little sister's dolls?
 Bobby (conclusively)—Because I can't pick 'em out.—Truth.

Victimized.

"If I live long enough," he said moodily, "I hope I'll get over being a natural mark for every bunko steerer that happens to be loose."
 "What's the matter?"

"I concluded I'd have to economize, so I sent fifty cents to a man who said that was all he'd charge to tell me how to make a little money go a long way."
 "And what did he tell you?"

"He simply wrote: 'Send five cents by express to San Francisco.'"—Washington Star.

He'd Been Looking On.

Mrs. Hayseed (in the stock exchange)—Good lands! I never heard such a racket. How do folks think in all this noise?

Mr. Hayseed—Think! They don't try to think. They just buy and sell like mad for a few hours, and then go home and figure up to see whether they are rich or ruined.—N. Y. Weekly.

Drew the Line.

Mrs. Hicks—Here I am, keeping two girls and have to work like a slave myself.

Hicks—Why don't you get another girl?

Mrs. Hicks—Not much; come what may I simply won't work nights.—N. Y. World.

Not a Fair Test.

Little Girl—Our baby is smarter than yours.

Little Boy—Tisn't.
 "Yes 'tis. Your baby can't say the first word yet. Our baby is beginning to talk."

"Y-es, but your baby is a girl!"—Good News.

A Certain Remedy.

"I wish," said Mrs. Cornstossel, "that they was some way ter keep people from talkin' about ye behind yer back."
 "They is," replied her husband.

"What?"
 "Run for office. Then they'll talk about ye ter yer face."—Washington Star.

At Home and Abroad.

An Unnecessary Decision.

Gosling—Barber, my skin is tender. I wish you'd shave me down, not up.
 Irish Barber—Down, is it? Sure, sor, there's nothing else but down to shave!—Harper's Bazar.

Very High.

"Does your wife wear a high hat when she goes to the play?"
 "I should say she does," replied the man who always looks weary. "It cost me $27."—Washington Star.

Better for Him.

"I always like to see pa and ma dressed up in their best clothes," said Jacky. "They let me do as I please then, 'cause they can't spank me 'thout messin' themselves up."—Harper's Bazar.

Hope Crushed to Earth.

Will rise again in the bosom of a dyspeptic wise enough to substitute for the Hendersons, which have bamboozled him out of his belief in the possibility of cure, the real invigorant and stomachic, Hostettler's Stomach Bitters. The bilious, the nervous, the dyspeptic, the rheumatic alike derive speedy benefit from this helpful b tonic medicine. Persons suffering from indigestion will gain no positive permanent good from the fiery unmedicated stimulants of commerce, too often used recklessly. The Bitters is immeasurably, to be preferred to these as a tonic, since its pure basis is modified by the conjunction with it of vegetable ingredients of the highest remedial excellence. Malaria is prevented and remedied by it, and it infuses vigor into the weak and sickly. A wineglassful three times a day is the average dose.

For All Moods.

Brown—Old Jones knows two girls, one a blonde the other a brunette. When he feels particularly dull he calls upon the lively blonde; when he is unusually merry he goes to see the pensive brunette. Good idea, isn't it?
 Robinson—Yes; but what does he do when he is neither dull nor merry?
 Brown—Stays at home with his wife.—Brooklyn Life.

A New Article.

Harold Grosgrain—This, madam, is the very latest material.
 Mrs. Schoppen—Are you sure it is the latest?

Harold Grosgrain—Yes, madam; we haven't even had time to mark it down.
 —Puck.

No Reform Likely Now.

Little Ethel—Mrs. Nextdoor told mamma that she ought to put her jellies and preserves in a dark closet.

Little Johnny—That's all right. There's only one dark closet in this house, and that's the one mamma locks me in when I'm naughty.—Good News.

Wooling by Proxy.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:
 "Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."
 —Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892.
 These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1716—Philip Livingston, "signer" for New York, born in Albany; died 1778.
 1768—Talma, great French tragedian, born; died 1826.
 1811—Abby Kelly Foster, abolitionist and radical, born in Pelham, Mass.; died in Worcester Jan. 14, 1887. Mrs. Foster descended from Quaker stock, and received her education chiefly in a Sunday school at Providence. She taught school several years in Massachusetts, but becoming interested in the anti-slavery movement in 1837 devoted her full time and energy to the agitation of that cause. She is believed to have been the first woman to speak against slavery before a mixed audience, and she suffered many persecutions on account of her freedom of speech. She married in 1845 Stephen C. Foster, also an anti-slavery worker, and the pair soon took up the question of woman's suffrage as an adjunct to the abolition cause. Mrs. Foster continued to speak until her health broke down. She advocated prohibition, and also the doctrine of no taxation without representation. Her views on the last named were so extreme that she permitted her property to be sold and her farm seized for taxes, because, being a woman, she could neither vote nor hold office.
 1865—Edward Everett, Massachusetts orator and statesman, a colleague of Daniel Webster, died in Boston; born 1794.
 1864—Telegraphing collision on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western at Hackensack meadows, N. J.; 11 killed, 30 injured.

Mr. Cleveland's anxiety to have the people know all that he knows about his policy towards Hawaii was so great that it only took him about six months to make public his reception of the Ex-Queen's commissioners, last summer.

It is surely time to read the riot act when a democratic congressman refers to Mr. Cleveland as "the toad-stool emperor," who has found out "that the earth revolved whether he ordered it or not."

It is gratifying to note that the president has over his own signature acknowledged himself to be subject to the commands of congress. Some of his acts have indicated that he thought he owned congress.

The country has had quite enough of democratic experimenting. Let the republicans of congress restrict the business of this session to the appropriations and the country will be grateful.

The United States minister to Peru reports that anarchy prevails in that country. This country escaped a similar state of affairs when it put the democratic party out of power.

Coxey is still trying to talk to Congress about non-interest bearing bonds. Might as well try to persuade people to invest their money in non-profit paying business.

Senator Murphy will want more than a bait of Cleveland duck to make him forget the personal insults thrown at him when his candidacy for the senate was first announced.

Now that Senator Hill has been fed at the White House it is presumable that a place will be made for him at the official pap trough.

Vice President Stevenson and Charles A. Dana are still outside the administration breastworks.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Yesterday's Work in the Senate and House.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 15.—There were very few members in their seats when Lieut.-Gov. Gill rapped the senate to order at 5 o'clock yesterday. Senator Hamer of Fulton introduced a bill making it a crime for any person or corporation to insure a minor. The senator says many children are insured and killed every year. Senator Hunter of Winnebago introduced two bills amending the Canada thistle law by including in its provisions the Russian thistle, which has made its appearance recently in the northern part of Illinois and has spread over the best farm land in the state. Soon after this the senate adjourned until 10 o'clock to-day.

Nearly forty members of the house were in their seats when that body was called to order at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Callahan offered a resolution, which was adopted, authorizing the secretary of state to procure a sufficient number of Hurd's revised statutes to supply one copy to each member of the house during the session. The house then adjourned.

Fatal Row Among Hungarians.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 15.—Two Hungarians, Michael Patsko and John Minisha, were fatally stabbed last night during a drunken riot in Hanover township. Eight of the participants in the fight were arrested and are held to await the result of Patsko's and Minisha's injuries. The men are all severely cut, but it is thought that three of them will recover.

Janesville Plating Company.

COMPROMISE ON A LOAN.

British Cabinet Settles the Dispute Over Funds for the Navy.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The discussions reported to exist in the cabinet in regard to the carrying out of the naval program is said to have been smoothed over by a compromise by necessary funds for the navy instead of taking the surplus from the budget for 1895, to which Sir William Harcourt, chancellor of the exchequer, was opposed, as he desires to do something popular with this surplus. It is believed that the loan will be issued in the form of terminable annuities.

Germans Inadequately Protected.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—In the reichstag yesterday Herr Hasse, national liberal, questioned the government respecting the inadequate protection given by the government to Germans abroad. During the course of his remarks he referred to the statement made by Count von Caprivi, the ex-chancellor, upon the occasion of the disturbances in Chili that Germany wanted more warships.

Liege Anarchists on Trial.

LIEGE, Belgium, Jan. 15.—The trial of sixteen anarchists, including the notorious Jagolchowski, alias Baron Sternberg (who failed to appear as he is now in a Russian prison), has commenced here. The prisoners are charged with being concerned in the dynamite outrages at Liege in the spring of 1894, the most serious being the explosion at the residence of Dr. Renson.

New Hungarian Cabinet.

BUDA-PESTH, Jan. 15.—Baron Banffy has formed a cabinet in which he will act as premier only. The list of the new ministers will be submitted to the king at once.

THE PLAN

By Which a Society Woman Escaped Much Bother.

The recent allegations of smuggling of society women remind me of a very good story, and a true one, told of a well-known New York woman whose husband was minister to the court of Napoleon III. during the sixties. In those days there was a premium on gold, and as all payments in Europe were necessarily on a gold basis, a person giving a commission to a friend would naturally offer her gold to pay for it with.

This lady, it seems, made frequent trips, and was much burdened by commissions to buy such and such a thing in Paris for her numerous friends, many of whom neglected to supply her beforehand with the wherewithal to pay for them either in gold or any other form of money. After awhile the nuisance became so great that she determined to take heroic measures. Returning from a certain trip she brought back the articles that had been paid for, but neglected to bring those which had been ordered on credit. And this was the way she explained it to her friends:

"You see, my dear," she would say, "it was like this. You gave me an order for that shawl. The first day out I went all over my orders as I was sitting on deck. I had them all written out on slips of paper. In order to arrange them, I took them one by one and put them beside me on the seat. Those that were accompanied by the gold I put with the money on top of them, but just when I had finished a gust of wind came and blew all the others away, among them yours. Wasn't it too bad? Of course I could not remember those that blew away, and so bought none of them." She was not bothered after that by any commissions unbacked by the yellow metal.

YOURS TRULY, KNEFF & ALLEN, TRUTH TELLERS.

$50.00 REWARD.

We will pay the above amount to anyone who will produce substantial evidence that we are not selling what shoes we have of Marzluff & Co. make at exactly what we paid that factory.

Anybody can come and get a pair of the shoes, take them to the factory and convince themselves that the prices we charge is what we paid.

It is not our intention to injure anybody's business. Far from it. We believe in protecting home industries, but at same time we must protect ourselves. We would no doubt have been buying the Marzluff make of shoes direct from the factory at the present time, had not this factory refused to sell us more goods, consequently we were compelled to replace the stock with some other make, and as we have about $3,000 worth of the Marzluff goods, we decided to let them go at the factory cost. Instead of quitting the stock in 30 days, if not sold then we will continue as long as it lasts and will always

Sell at Factory COST.

We will use the line as a leader because they are made right at home and all you need to do is step over to the factory and learn what price we paid.

Some Brief Bits of Local News.

LITTLE four year old Georgie Bissell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bissell, residing near the school for the blind, is lying on a tufted cot, with the flesh on his body and limbs shockingly scalded. The little fellow fell backward into a tub of boiling water, and although rescued a moment after by his mother, his bath almost proved fatal. Dr. J. F. Pember was immediately called to attend the little sufferer, and he is now resting easier, although in great pain on account of his severe burns. "The little boy must have sat down in the tub," said one who visited the home last evening. "The flesh on his hip was burned most severely. It hardly seemed possible for him to live, but the doctor says he will come out all right, although he will always carry great scars."

BORNE OVER THE RIVER OF DEATH

Funeral of Joseph Daly.

The remains of Joseph Daly arrived in the city last evening from Kaukauna, and were taken to the home of Mrs. Ann Daly, 206 South River street. The funeral was held at St. Patrick's church this morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Father McGinnity officiating, after which the interment was made in Mount Olivet.

Leo Marshall.

Leo Marshall, the five-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin D. Marshall, 57 Chestnut street, died this morning of typhoid fever.

Saturday a Quiet Day.

Last Saturday was one of the poorest days for business ever seen in Janesville. The cold and snow kept the farmers at home, but notwithstanding the elements raged, A. C. Munger, the grocer, at 20 N. Main street, had no trouble in keeping his salesmen busy all day and quite late into the night. They did not quit delivering until 9 o'clock Saturday night and then had fourteen pages of orders to deliver today. He did a phenomenal business, and it is simply another demonstration of how thoroughly people will read advertisements and reply to them.

HIS NIECE.

He Strikes at Mrs. William J. Ackley and When Her Husband Interferes Gouges the Young Man's Face Most Vigorously—Ninety Day Commitment Issued.

Willis A. Baldwin seventy-five years old, tried to avenge a blow, which his father received thirteen years ago, by braining his niece, Mrs. William Ackley with a chair yesterday afternoon. Baldwin lives with his nephew in Bradford and it was in a fit of frenzy that he grabbed at heavy chair and struck at Mrs. Ackley. Ackley interfered. He tried not to injure his uncle but merely to hold him until he cooled off. It was a long time before the mad spell left him, not until he had gouged and torn Ackley's face pretty badly. Ackley came near losing one of his eyes.

"This man Ackley kicked my father," explained Baldwin to the court this morning, "and I was determined to get even with him."

"I should think your father must have been quite an old man, judging by your age, remarked Judge Phelps."

"He was an old man," replied Baldwin. "He died about twelve years ago. He was one of the first to come to this part of the state; he helped to make this state, and this young man kicked him, and I considered it my duty to avenge my father."

"It seems you have waited a long time," remarked Judge Phelps. "How would you like to go out and live with Mr. Aller?"

"All right judge; I guess Mr. Aller and I can get along."

This afternoon a change was made in the complaint, charging Baldwin with vagrancy instead of assault, and he was sent to the poor house for ninety days.

THEY HONOR DR. L. J. BARROWS

Janesville Doctors Meet and Adopt Resolutions on His Death.

The funeral of Dr. L. J. Barrows will be held at the residence, 107 South Main street, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and will be private. Rev. E. H. Pence will officiate and in probability a memorial service will be held at the Presbyterian church within the next two or three weeks.

Janesville doctors met in the Business Men's rooms this morning to take action on the death of Dr. L. J. Barrows. Dr. Henry Palmer was chairman of the meeting and Dr. E. E. Loomis secretary. The physicians present were: Drs. Henry Palmer, J. B. Whiting, G. W. Chittenden, G. K. Chittenden, R. W. Edden, Frank Pember, Hugh Menzies, E. E. Loomis, James Gibson, W. H. Edd, A. C. Miner, E. H. Dudley and K. Meinert. Remarks were made by Dr. Whiting, which voiced the sentiments of the body of physicians. Drs. J. B. Whiting, G. W. Chittenden and E. E. Loomis were made a committee on resolutions and reported as follows:

WHEREAS—Dr. Lyman J. Barrows our esteemed citizen and colleague, has answered the last summons and passed out from among us to that none above where pain and suffering are no more, and

WHEREAS—The medical profession has lost one of its ablest counselors and his co-workers one of their true friends. It is with profound sorrow and sadness that we learn of his death and realize that we can no more call upon him in the hour of need for his kindly advice and able assistance.

Resolved—That we extend to his bereaved wife and son our profound sympathy for the loss of a loving husband and kind father.

Drs. Judd, Menzies and Pember were appointed a committee to confer with the family as to funeral arrangements. It was voted that the physicians of the city be requested to attend the funeral in a body. The meeting adjourned to meet at Dr. Palmer's office this evening at 7 o'clock.

PLAYING THE ORGAN IS DANGEROUS

Match in a Footville Instrument Nearly Burned the House Down.

It is rather a dangerous amusement to play an organ at Footville. Mrs. George Gooch tried it and nearly burned the house down. Mrs. Gooch lives near Footville and played the organ at 1 o'clock. At about 5 o'clock the smell of something burning was noticed and when the parlor door was opened one side of that room burst into flames. It is supposed that in some manner a match got into the organ, and the friction from playing the instrument caused the match to light.

STORY WOULD BE GOOD IF TRUE
Rockford Paper and Rockford Young Man Are Misted.

The Rockford Republican prints this effusion:

"A little while ago Roy Clements went to Janesville to visit friends and have a general good time, and for all practical purposes he had a roaring old time if all reports are correct."

"While there he attended a dance and became acquainted with several young ladies, but one especially engaged his attention. She was a minister's daughter and in spite of the fact that she was owditching, was a demure young lady. During a lull in the dance Roy could not help embracing his pretty partner. At this she was very much shocked and exclaimed in a suppressed voice:

"Well, I like that."

"Then Roy hugged her again."

Now that would be a very nice story if it were true but the fact of the matter is, there isn't a minister in town who has a daughter old enough to attend dances. The young gentleman must have been misled.

RAILROAD MEN HAVE A PETITION

Ask the Legislature Not to Enact Burdensome Laws.

A petition to the legislature has been drawn up by a committee of Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway employees and is now being circulated among railroad men. It contains an appeal to the legislature requesting, on behalf of railway employees of the state, that it do not enact any further legislation which would add to the burdens of the railway corporations and cause them an increased expenditure. It further recites that the companies have been reduced to such straits owing to the past year of depression that any increased expenditures must fall upon the employees in the way of reduced salaries as well as a reduction in their number, if not an entire suspension of the shop departments and their artisans. The men claim that the circulation of the petition is a spontaneous movement on their part.

PAY $17,500 ON THE TOBACCO FIRE

Growers' Association Settle—Amount Allowed is $3,000 Under the Insurance.

Insurance adjusters have fixed the loss on the Rock County Tobacco Growers' Association fire. The loss on tobacco was placed at $18,000, not considering the salvage; loss on tools $500, on building $3,000. There was $20,500 insurance on the contents, and $3,000 on the building. By this adjustment the insurance companies pay $17,000—$3,000 on building; $13,500 on tobacco, and $500 on tools, the association suffering the remainder of the loss, $4,500.

MEN ARE PICKED OUT TO HEAD THE BANK

FENNER KIMBALL THE PROBABLE PRESIDENT.

William Bladon Will Be Cashier and the New Concern Will Be at Work Within a Month—List of Stockholders Receives Numerous Additions.

Plans for the organization of the new bank are practically complete. The officers, according to common report, will be:

President—Fenner Kimball or G. G. Sutherland.

Cashier—William Bladon.

Fenner Kimball is said to be the probable choice for president. G. G. Sutherland is said to be rather unwilling to be considered in that connection.

Although stock subscriptions were supposed to have been completed yesterday, the pressure exerted by others who wanted stock, led to additional names being placed on the list. All the subscribers will be scaled down to keep the capital within the $50,000 limit. It is probable that the bank will be at work within a month.

THE LAND OF THE
HYACINTH AND RUBYDR. TALMAGE TELLS OF HIS CEYLON WANDERINGS.A Press Sermon from the Text: "The Ships of Tarshish First"—Isaiah 60:1x.
—The Heathen Temples Crumbling
Before Christian Light.

THE TARSHISH OF my text by many commentators is supposed to be the island of Ceylon, upon which the seventh sermon of the "Round-the-World" series lands us. Ceylon was called by the Romans Taprobane. John Milton called it "Golden Chersonese." Moderns have called Ceylon "The Isle of Palms;" "The Isle of Flowers;" "The Pearl Drop on the Brow of India;" "The Isle of Jewels;" "The Island of Spice;" "The Show Place of the Universe;" "The Land of Hyacinth and Ruby." In my eyes, for scenery it appears to be a mixture of Yosemite and Yellowstone park. All Christian people want to know more of Ceylon, for they have a long while been contributing for its evangelization. As our ship from Australia approached this island, there hovered over it clouds thick and black as the superstitions which have hovered here for centuries; but the morning sun was breaking through like the gospel light which is to scatter the last cloud of moral gloom. The sea lay along the coast calm as the eternal purposes of God toward all islands and continents. We swung into the harbor of Colombo, which is made by a break water built at vast expense. As we floated into it the water is black with boats of all sizes and manned by people of all colors, but chiefly Tamils and Cingalese.

There are two things I want most to see on this island: a heathen temple with its devotees in idolatrous worship, and an audience of Cingalese addressed by a Christian missionary. The entomologist may have his capture of brilliant insects; and the sportsman his tent adorned with antler of red deer and tooth of wild boar; and the painter his portfolio of gorge three thousand feet down, and of days dying on evening pillows of purple cloud etched with fire; and the botanist his camp full of orchids, and crowfoots, and gentians, and valerian, and lotus. I want most to find out the moral and religious triumphs, how many wounds have been healed; how many sorrows comforted; how many entombed nations resurrected. Sir William Baker, the famous explorer and geographer, did well for Ceylon after his eight years' residence in this island, and Prof. Ernst Heckel, the professor from Jena, did well when he swept these waters, and rummaged these hills and took home for future inspection the insects of this tropical air. And forever honored be such work; but let all that is sweet in rhythm, and graphic on canvas, and imposing in monument, and immortal in memory be brought to tell the deeds of those who were heroes and heroines for Christ's sake.

Many scholars have supposed that this island of Ceylon was the original Garden of Eden where the snake first appeared on reptilian mission. There are reasons for belief that this was the site where the first homestead was opened and destroyed. It is so near the equator that there are not more than twelve degrees of Fahrenheit difference all the year round. Perpetual foliage, perpetual fruit, and all styles of animal life prosper. What luxuriance, and abundance, and superabundance of life! What styles of plumage do not the birds sport! What styles of scale do not the fishes reveal! What styles of song do not the groves have in their libretto! Here on the roadside and clear out on the beach of the sea stands the cocoanut tree, saying: "Take my leaves for shade. Take the juice of my fruit for delectable drink. Take my saccharine for sugar. Take my fibre for the cordage of your ships. Take my oil to kindle your lamps. Take my wood to fashion your cups and pitchers. Take my leaves to thatch your roofs. Take my smooth surface on which to print your books. Take my 30,000,000 trees covering 500,000 acres, and with the exportation enrich the world. I will wave in your fans and spread abroad in your umbrellas. I will vibrate in your musical instruments. I will be the scrubbing brushes on your floors."

Here also stands the palm tree, saying: "I am at your disposal. With these arms I fed your ancestors 150 years ago, and with these same arms I will feed your ancestors 150 years from now. I defy the centuries!"

Here also stands the nutmeg tree, saying: "I am ready to spice your beverages and enrich your puddings, and with my sweet dust make insipid things palatable."

Here also stands the coffee plant, saying: "With the liquid boiled from my berry I stimulate the nations morning by morning."

Here stands the tea plant, saying: "With the liquid boiled from my leaf I soothe the world's nerves and stimulate the world's conversation, evening by evening."

Here stands the cinthona, saying: "I am the foe of malaria. In all climates my bitterness is the slaughter of fevers."

What miracles of productiveness on these islands! Enough sugar to sweeten all the world's beverages; enough bananas to pile all the world's fruit baskets; enough rice to mix all the world's puddings; enough cocoanut to powder all the world's cakes; enough flowers to garland all the world's beauty.

But in the evening, riding through a cinnamon grove, I first tasted the leaves and bark of that condiment so valuable and delicate that transported on ships the aroma of the cinnamon is dispelled if placed near a rival bark. Of such great value is the cinnamon shrub that years ago those who injured it in Ceylon were put to death. But that which once was a jungle of cinnamon is now a park of gentlemen's residences. The long, white dwelling houses are bounded with this shrub and all other styles of growth congregated there, make a botanical garden. Doves called cinnamon doves hop among the branches, and crows, more poetically styled ravens, which never could sing, but think they can, fly across the road giving full test of their vocabularies. Birds which learned their chanting under the very eaves of heaven overpowered all with their grand march of the tropics. The hibiscus dapples the scene with its scarlet clusters. All shades of brown and emerald, and saffron, and brilliance; melons, limes, magnosteens, mustard apples, guavas, pine apples, jessamine so laden with aroma they have to hold fast to the wall, and begonias, gloriosas on fire, and orchids so delicate other lands must keep them under conservatory, but here defiant of all weather, and flowers more or less akin to azaleas, and honeysuckles, and flosses, and fuchias and chrysanthemums and rhododendrons, and fox-gloves, and pansies, which dye the plains and mountains of Ceylon with heaven. The evening hour burns incense of all styles of aromatics. The convolvulus, blue as if the sky had fallen, and butterflies spangling the air, and arms of trees sleeved with blossoms, and rocks upholstered of moss, commingling sounds, and sights, and odors, until eye, and ear, and nostril vie with each other as to which sense shall open the door to the most enchantment. A struggle between music, and perfume, and iridescence. Oleanders reeling in intoxication of color. Great banyan trees that have been changing their mind for centuries, each century carrying out a new plan of growth, attracted our attention, and saw us pass in the year of 1894, as they saw pass the generations of 1794, and 1694. Colombo is so thoroughly embowered in foliage that if you go into one of its towers and look down upon the city of one hundred and thirty thousand people you can not see a house. Oh, the trees of Ceylon! May you live to behold the morning climbing down through their branches, or the evening tipping their leaves with amber and gold! I forgive the Buddhist for the worship of trees until they know of the God who made the trees. I wonder not that there are some trees in Ceylon called sacred. To me all trees are sacred. I wonder not that before one of them they burn camphor flowers, and hang lamps around its branches, and a hundred thousand people each year make pilgrimage to this tree. Worship something man must, and until he hear of the only being worthy of worship, what so elevating as a tree! What glory enthroned amid its foliage! What a majestic doxology spreads out in its branches! What a voice when the tempests pass through it! How it looks down upon the cradle and the grave of centuries! As the fruit of the tree unlawfully eaten struck the race with woe and the up-lifting of another tree brings peace to the soul, let the woodman spare the tree, and all nations honor it, if, through higher teaching, we do not, like the Ceylonese, worship it! How consolatory that when we no more walk under the tree branches on earth, we may see the "Tree of life which bears twelve manner of fruit, and yields her fruit every month, and the leaves of the tree are for the healing of the nations!"

Two processions I saw in Ceylon within one hour. The first led by a Hindoo priest, a huge pot of flowers on his head, his face disfigured with holy lacerations, and his unwashed followers beating as many discords from what are supposed to be musical instruments, as at one time can be induced to enter the human ear. The procession halted at the door of the huts. The occupants came out and made obeisance and presented small contributions. In return thereof the priest sprinkled ashes upon the children who came forward, this evidently a form of benediction. Then the procession led on by the priest started again; more noise, more ashes, more genuflection. However keen one sense of the ludicrous, he could find nothing to excite a smile in the movements of such a procession. Meaningless, oppressive, squalid, filthy, sad.

Returning to our carriage, we rode on for a few moments, and we came on another procession, a kindly lady leading groups of native children all clean, bright, happy, laughing. They were a Christian school out for exercise. There seemed as much intelligence, refinement and happiness in that regiment of young Cingalese as you would find in the ranks of any young ladies' seminary being chaperoned on their afternoon walk through Central park, New York, or Hyde park, London. The Hindoo procession illustrated on a small scale something of what Hindooism can do for the world. The Christian procession illustrated on a small scale something of what Christianity can do for the world, but those two processions were only fragments of two great processions ever marching across our world; the procession blasted of superstition and the procession blessed of gospel light. I saw them in one afternoon in Ceylon. They are to be seen in all nations.

Nothing is of more thrilling interest than the Christian achievements in this island. The Episcopal church was here the National church, but disestablishment has taken place, and since Mr. Gladstone's accomplishment of that fact in 1850, all denominations are on equal platform, and all are doing mighty work. America is second to no other nation in what has been done for Ceylon. Since 1816 she has had her religious agents in the Jaffna peninsula of Ceylon. The Spauldings, the Howlands, the Doctors Poor, the Saunders and others just as good and strong have been fighting back monsters of superstition and cruelty greater than any that ever swung the tusk or roared in the jungles.

But passing up and down the streets of Ceylon you find all styles of people within five minutes: Afghans, Kaffirs, Portuguese, Moormen, Dutch, English, Scotch, Irish, American; all classes, all dialects, all manners and customs, all styles of salaam. The most interesting thing on earth is the human race, and specimens of all branches of it confront you in Ceylon. The island of the present is a quiet and inconspicuous affair compared with what it once was. The dead cities of Ceylon were larger and more imposing than are the living cities. On this island are dead New Yorks, and dead Pekins, and dead Edinburghs, and dead Londons. Ever and anon at the stroke of the archaeologist's hammer the tomb of some great municipality flies open, and there are other buried cities that will yet respond to the explorer's pick ax. The Pompeii and Herculaneum underneath Italy are small compared with the Pompeii and Herculaneums underneath Ceylon. Yonder is an exhumed city which was founded 500 years before Christ, standing in pomp and splendor for 1,200 years. Stairways up which fifty men might pass side by side. Carved pillars, some of them fallen, some of them aslant, some of them erect. Phidias and Christopher Wrens never heard of here performed the marvels of sculpture and architecture. Aisles through which royal processions marched. Arches under which kings were carried. City with reservoir twenty miles in circumference. Extemporized lakes that did their cooling and refreshing for twelve centuries. Ruins more suggestive than Melrose and Kenilworth. Ceylonian Karnaks and Luxors. Ruins retaining much of grandeur, though wars bombarded them and time put his chisel on every block, and more than all, vegetation put its anchors, and pries, and wrenches in all the crevices. Dagobas, or palaces where relics of saints or deities are kept. Dagobas four hundred feet high, and their fallen material burying precious things for the sight of which modern curiosity has dug and blasted in vain. Procession of elephants in imitation, wrought into lustrous marble. Troops of horses in full run. Shrines, chapels, cathedrals wrecked on the mountain side. Stairs of moon stone. Exquisite scrolls rolling up more mysteries than will ever be unrolled. Over sixteen square miles, the ruins of one city strewn. Throne rooms on which at different times sat 165 kings, reigning in authority they inherited. Walls that witnessed coronations, assassinations, subjugations, triumphs. Altars at which millions bowed ages before the orchestras celestial woke the shepherds with midnight overture.

When Lieut. Skinner, in 1832, discovered the site of some of these cities, he found congregated in them undisturbed assemblages of leopards, porcupines, flamingoes and pelicans; reptiles sunning themselves on the altars; prima donnas rendering ornithological chant from deserted music halls. One king restored much of the grandeur; rebuilt 1,500 residences, but ruin soon resumed its scepter. But all is down; the spires down; the pillars down; the tablets down; the glory of splendid arches down. What killed those cities? Who slew the New York and London of the year 500 B. C.? Was it unhealth with a host of plagues? Was it foreign armies laying siege? Was it whole generations weakened by their own vices? Mystery sits amid the monoliths and brick dust. Finger on lip in eternal silence while the centuries guess and guess in vain. We simply know that genius planned those cities. An eminent writer estimates that a pile of bricks in one ruin of Ceylon would be enough to build a wall ten feet high from Edinburgh to London; 1,600 pillars with carved capitals are standing sentinel for ten miles. You can judge somewhat of the size of the cities by the reservoirs that were required to slake their thirst; judging the size of the city from the size of the cup out of which it drank. Cities crowded with inhabitants; not like American or English cities, but packed together as only barbaric tribes can pack them. But their keel was sounded; their light went out. Giant trees are the only royal family now occupying those palaces. The growl of wild beasts, where once the guffaw of wassail ascended. Anuradhapura and Pollonara will never be rebuilt. Let all the living cities of the earth take warning. Cities are human, having a time to be born and a time to die. No more certainly have they a cradle than a grave. A last judgment is appointed for individuals, but cities have their last judgment in this world. They bless, they curse, they worship, they blaspheme, they suffer, they are rewarded, they are overthrown.

Preposterous! says some one, to think that any of our American or European cities which have stood so long can ever come through vice to extinction. But New York and London have not stood so long as those Ceylonese cities stood. Where is the throne outside of Ceylon on which 165 successive kings reigned for a life time. Cities and nations that have lived far longer than our present cities, or nation, have been sepulchred. Let all the great municipalities of this and other lands ponder. It is as true now as when the psalmist wrote it, and as true of cities and nations as of individuals: "The Lord knoweth the way of the righteous; but the way of the ungodly shall perish."

Separate Bodices Now Made of Bright Wool Goods—Flower Garnitures.

For ordinary wear skirts are even with the ground all the way round. For dinner and other ceremonious occasions they may be somewhat lengthened at the back, but no very long trains are worn excepting by brides.

Separate bodices for everyday use, with dark skirts, are now made of any sort of material, no longer necessarily of silk. Crepon, veiling, cashmere or challin in any of the clear, bright tints now fashionable make inexpensive and becoming waists. Last summer's light wool gowns may thus be made to do service again, the wide breadth of the skirt being used for the immense sleeves, which should be stiffened with crinoline. Lace or choux of velvet ribbon form a suitable trimming.

Muffs share in the general affluence of decoration. They are made of velvet, silk, brocade or satin, trimmed with lace, ribbons, flowers and feathers, embroidered, ruffled and puffed and generally disguised under various millinery effects. The fact that they were originally intended to keep the hands warm seems to be entirely forgotten.

Lace is a main feature of the season's trimmings, both in black and light tints. It is said that black guipure may be renovated by being rinsed in strong tea, which is also employed to give white laces an appearance of age.

The redingote is much worn in Paris, although less frequently seen here. It is particularly suitable for middle aged and elderly women, as it admits of greater richness of material than the short jacket and is more dignified in appearance.

Flowers are gaining in favor as a trimming for evening gowns. The costume shown in the sketch is thus adorned and is extremely effective. The front and sides of the bell skirt are of genet satin, while the back is of white lace. The foot of the satin portion is trimmed with lace application, on which are placed large bouquets of blue flowers at short intervals. The bodice is a lace blouse held in at the waist by a corselet belt of blue velvet fastened by four paste buttons. The 1830 decolletage is bordered by a band of white satin embroidered with jet. The balloon sleeves are of lace and terminate at the elbow with a lace ruffle. A garland of flowers crosses each shoulder.

ARTISTIC FURNITURE AND GOWNS.

How a Clever Girl Utilized a Grandmother's Sewing Chair.

An odd and pretty fashion is that of painting the name and the favorite flower of the owner on her pet chair. A chair seen recently in a charming home was beautifully individualized by this treatment. It was a low sewing chair that had belonged to the grandmother of the present owner, as strong today as it was 79 years ago. This clever girl gave it three coats of white enamel paint, then gilded the two balls terminating the side posts. On the top slat across the back she painted

EVENING GOWN.

La France roses, her favorites. On the middle slat she inscribed her name, "Mary," in up and down English writing, and on the bottom slat were old fashioned pinks, her grandmother's posies. The cushion of the seat was pink india silk covered with a pattern of delicate green leaves tied on with ribbons of the two colors. The autograph and the blossoms stamped the chair with a unique individuality, and it was altogether a dainty and decorative bit of furniture.

There is plenty of scope for the work of the amateur artist in these days. Besides the innumerable calendars, bookmarks and other old standbys on which she has long been accustomed to exert her skill she may now paint her gowns. Of course this sort of decoration is most suitable for delicate bodices or evening gowns made of silk or satin. Water colors should be used for the purpose. Thick, firm silk weaves take the color very well, without any previous preparation, but where the fabric is soft and the paint inclines to spread the pattern should first be gone over with Chinese white, the latter being allowed to dry before the real work of painting begins.

The evening gown illustrated consists of a redingote of peacock blue mirror velvet over a plain gown of rose striped gauze. The redingote, which has a demitrain, is lined throughout with white liberty satin and is bordered round the lower edge with a band of cable. The short puffed sleeves are gathered into a band of lace galloon. The same galloon borders the skirt of the gauze tulle, forms the belt and edges the straight portion of the decolletage. A scarf of white liberty satin is draped around the back and shoulders of the bodice as a berthia and joins the revers of the redingote in front, both revers and berthia being finished with a very narrow fur edge.

Clean Hands,
Honor Before Riches.

Wealth is not the only goal. With health and a fair amount of brains it is possible to be rich if one stifles honor. But what is wealth without respect. When we sell a person a pound of Coffee, Tea, or a sack of flour or any other article handled in a grocery store we will sell it with the idea in view that they will return. The very best money can buy—and at prices almost as low as trashy stuff is sold. The following line of canned goods are the
